

Website Transfer 2015

Description

Dateline July 9, 2015 — The South Lyon Area Amateur Radio Club (SLAARC) has successfully transferred its WordPress website and other non-WordPress functions from the GoDaddy servers to the QTH.com servers. QTH is owned/operated by fellow amateur radio operator Scott Neader (KA9FOX). QTH is a popular web-hosting service for ham radio club websites and the personal websites of amateur radio operators. The very popular N1MM Logger is currently hosted on QTH. SLAARC can be reached via the form on the CONTACT US tab.
